

CONSIDER THE LILIES

(Matthew 6:28)

If you have a problem, a burden, a care,
A sorrow, a worry, an unanswered prayer,
Consider the lilies that grow in the field,
And understand better what heartaches can yield.

If flowers reflect our Creator's delight
In beauty that scarcely endures for a night,
He surely appreciates that which will last,
When all of life's troubles are finally past!

Then rest in your Father's infallible love,
Who carefully orders your life from above,
And know that accepting your trials from His throne,
Will blossom in beauty uniquely your own.
