

Feeling the Lord's Presence

The Lord said He'd always be with us,
He never would leave us alone.
He's suffered the pain of betrayal
By those who were really His own.
And He promised not to forsake us;
It's something He cannot condone.

If we really felt the Lord's presence,
If we had our eyes opened wide,
We'd be less inclined to deny Him
With Him standing there at our side.
We'd sense that He felt our betrayal,
And simply be too mortified.

Bud Morris

9/13/2013

www.BudMorris.net

